(Alphabetical Roster)

A large and costly problem, chronic pain affects approximately 1.5 billion people worldwide—more than heart disease, cancer and diabetes combined.¹ That's why Abbott is redefining chronic pain relief. Whether your patients experience precise or pervasive* pain, our advanced approach to neuromodulation, with two superior and proven therapies, gives you the opportunity to provide better relief.²⁻⁴ Our proprietary dorsal root ganglion (DRG) therapy targets certain intractable focal pain of the lower limbs caused by CRPS,² while our spinal cord stimulation (SCS) therapy, with revolutionary BurstDR™ stimulation,^{} helps relieve pain felt broadly in the back, arms and/or legs. With Abbott, you can maximize patient outcomes by tailoring relief—because all pain is not equal. Additionally, our radiofrequency ablation portfolio provides a minimally invasive alternative to back pain management. www.abbott.com
